

Case number: 1307

Date of investigation:

2 March 2008

Number of witnesses: 110

Investigator's notes:

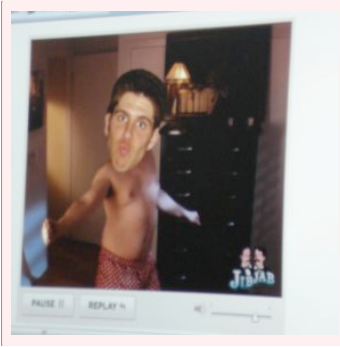

The night started out like any other Sunday evening; residents of 1307 W. Bradley Ave. flocked out of their rooms to take a little break from last minute studying. The smell of spicy hot wings wafted out of Lydia's Lounge as 110 residents piled into it. There was a mad rush to the back of the room where residents attacked the 500 Buffalo Wild Wings.

But the wings weren't the only thing these students were hungry for. "Hungry for YouTube Night" ravaged their senses. While gnawing away at their wonderful late night snack, the big screen rolled down and held their eyes hostage. Something magical happened in the hearts of all that attended. These residents kicked back, relaxed and enjoyed the wonderful gift of spending time with fellow residents. In front of them, scenes of comedy, action, and whimsy unfolded. Dancing condoms, intense sumo wrestlers, and a cross-dressing date gone wrong premiered in front of all the witnesses.

Sydney Steininger 4/20/08 5:24 PM
Comment: Any way to turn this?

Some were so astonished and mesmerized by the videos that only utterances floated out of their mouths, but anyone who was in their right mind said that they thought YouTube Night was the best program U-Hall had put on all year. Here is a list of a few statements from eye witnesses:

Sydney Steininger 4/20/08 5:24 PM
Deleted: too

Sydney Steininger 4/20/08 5:24 PM
Deleted: are is

Statement by witness # 24: Mark Mellgran exclaimed “I have never seen anything like tonight... I was happy, disturbed, and rolling on the floor in laughter all at the same time.”

Statement by witness # 78: Annie Azriel from room 416 stated, “I just sat their in amazement with my mouth to the floor. The people who made the videos were really creative and enthusiastic.”

Sydney Steininger 4/20/08 5:25 PM
Deleted:

Statement by witness #110: Jerry Ourada commented, “All the hall council events have been fun, but this one took the cake.”

Sydney Steininger 4/20/08 5:25 PM
Deleted: e

Conclusion of Investigation:

On the night of March 3rd Bradley University students left Lydia's Lounge with full bellies and brains full of fun memories.

Sydney Steininger 4/20/08 5:25 PM

Comment: More content, not sure what.